

L W V MEMBERS TO ATTEND MEETINGS OF COUNTY CITY OFFICIALS

Mrs. Paul M. Miller, President, Bay St. Louis League of Women Voters, announces that all of the members of the League have been made honorary members of the public school observers.

Two members will turn attend each school board, city commission and county supervisor meeting. In this way, not only will members become acquainted with the work of their representatives, but the League can more intelligently become informed of the workings of our government here in Bay St. Louis and Hancock County.

BAY MASON'S ELECT OFFICERS FOR 1952

A short time ago, Bay St. Louis Lodge No. 429, F & A. M. elected and appointed their officers for the coming year.

Jesse Gray was elected Worshipful Master.

W. Watt Jr., Senior Warden. A. C. Mitchell, Junior Warden. Mike Nacelle, Secretary. Bill Witter, Treasurer.

The following officers were appointed at that time:

Vernon Bilbo, Senior Deacon.

James O. Normand, Junior Deacon.

Alvin Borsage, Teller.

The installation of the above officers will take place December 27, 1951.

ANNOUNCE BIRTH OF DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Stanley Jr. have announced the birth of a daughter on December 7 at the University Hospital, Augusta, Ga., weighing 8 pounds and 7 ounces.

The baby has been given the name of Janis Julianne. Mrs. Stanley is the former Miss Virgil Dick of this city.

Mrs. Stanley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Dick, her sister, Miss Noelle Dick, and Mrs. Stanley's grandmother, Mrs. C. J. Chadwick, spent several days with the Stanleys getting acquainted with Miss Stanley.

NOTICE TO PUBLIC

The Farmers Home Administration office, P. M. A. office and Hancock County Soil Conservation District office will be closed from Friday, December 21, at 6:30 p.m. until January 1, 1952.

The County Agents office will be closed from Saturday, December 22, through January 1, 1952.

If you wish any business please arrange to be here by Friday, December 21, 1951.

BWYC JUNIOR DANCE TO BE DECEMBER 21

The Junior members of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club will entertain their friends at a Christmas Dance at the club on Friday, Dec. 21.

Harry's orchestra will furnish music for the dancing and there will be a jitterbug contest.

ATTENTION TO HOLIDAY FESTIVITIES

Miss Robert Allerton, representative of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club asks you to remember the following Christmas holiday activities:

On Saturday, December 22, the Auxiliary will serve dinner at the club followed by a dance. This will be held at 8:30 p.m. Three meals to attend the dinner are actually invited to come in time for the dance. Music will be furnished by Richard Alens and his band. Tickets are 50 cents.

The children's party at which the auxiliary entertainment features at the Yacht Club will take place on the afternoon of Christmas Eve, 1951.

Music, refreshments and games are to be furnished to the number and age so that some may know how many toys to distribute.

Your attention is again called by Mrs. Allerton to the club's Cook Book "Straight from the Galley" and suggests them as excellent Christmas presents. The price has been reduced from $3 to $2.

WSCS CIRCLE 1 HAS INTERESTING MEETING

Mrs. Horace Farn was hostess to Circle No. 1 of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church at their regular monthly meeting and Christmas party held at the church dining room Tuesday evening, December 18. Circle No. 1 had as their guests Circle No. 2.

Mrs. W. W. James presided over the regular business meeting which was followed by a devotional period led by Mrs. H. Buffin Oliver. She was assisted by Mrs. Paul Miller, Mrs. Robert Hamilton, Mrs. Sam Whitfield and Mrs. John Habart.

A social hour followed at which time the many gifts intended for the Sunday School's elementary department were exchanged and opened around the Christmas tree. The Christmas spirit was further accentuated by appropriate Yuletide decorations.

Mrs. Josie Miller served the punch and refreshments that were in keeping with the holiday season were enjoyed. Co-hostesses were Mrs. W. W. James, Mrs. L. H. Dimick, Mrs. H. A. Noto, Mrs. A. C. Eximius and Mrs. Owen A. Jessup.

TWO-TABLE BRIDGE

The two table Bridge Club which meets each Wednesday will have its annual Christmas luncheon at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club on Thursday December 20.

Garden Club Meets At Scharff Home

The Bay-Waveland Garden Club held its monthly meeting on Thursday, December 13, at the home of Mrs. Joseph Scharff, on South Beach. Co-hostesses for the afternoon were Mesdames D. Russell, S. Whitfield, F. Kiefer, O. Delph, C. R. Beyer, W. Rausch, J. R. Rollins, E. A. Samuels and René de Montluzin, Jr. The Scharff home was very attractively decorated with a profusion of flower arrangements, in the Christmas colors.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. W. W. Beyer Jr., president, and the minutes of the previous meeting and the executive board meeting were read, and approved as read.

Mrs. L. T. Boyd, Beautification chairman for Waveland, said that work had already started on beautification of Waveland. Mrs. J. Kern, Beautification Chairman for Bay St. Louis, did not give a report.

Mrs. E. A. Heath Sr. was nominated as scrapbook chairman in place of Mrs. Mauffray, whose term of resignation was read and accepted.

Mrs. J. R. Rollins, Pilgrimage Chairman, informed the meeting that the Pilgrimage would be held in Bay St. Louis on March 19, but that she had not started planning any activities and would not do so until the first of the new year.

Mrs. F. J. Trastour resigned as publicity chairman because she would not be in Bay St. Louis after the first of the year. Her resignation was accepted and she was given a riding vote of thanks by the members. Mrs. Frank Kiefer agreed to take the publicity chairmanship instead of Mrs. Trastour.

Mrs. Gerald Kennedy Sr., Camellia Show Chairman reported that the same committee would function again this year, as the Camellia Show had been called off last January but that she was not sure that she would be in Bay St. Louis on January 10. Mrs. L. T. Boyd was then appointed as Co-chairman of the Camellia Show and the other chairman was Classification. Mrs. S. Whitfield, Mrs. E. A. Samuels, Mrs. J. R. Rollins, Mrs. C. A. Eximius, Mrs. D. Russell, Mrs. O. Delph, Mrs. W. W. James, Mrs. A. C. Eximius and Mrs. E. A. Heath Sr. were the members of the Bay St. Louis Camellia Show.

Earth

With
To Men

The job of surveying and shooting such an expanse staggers the imagination. It requires extensive planning and arrangements. The Gulf survey and shooting party is composed of 30 men, ten small boats, four steel barges and a large houseboat, the W. B. Lee (3). The houseboat serves as a base of operations. It is equipped with mess room, cabins, spacious dining and gallery quarters (3) diesel-electric, hotel type refrigeration, recreational facilities, store-rooms, shower, baths and lounge deck. This crew is composed of four technicians, 22 field men and four cooks and houseboat men. They live secluded, sober, hard-working life, most of which for the next six or eight months will be spent on the water. They work ten continuous days interspersed by four-day off intervals. Only operation stoppers are high winds, fog and squalls. The W. B. Lee also is equipped with a planning and development room (4). There each day's surveying and shooting are mapped and results of each day's work developed, printed and sent to laboratories for interpretation by highly trained technicians. Eight hundred thousand acres is a lot of territory to shoot, but this hardy crew isn't at all daunted by the vastness of their project. "Given a break in the weather we'll knock it out before you know it," asserted a crew member who has been engaged in exploration work for 15 years. "It's just another 'oh."

It may be just another job to the seismic crew but it could be a mighty important one to all Mississippians and to the progress and development of the State's oil and gas resources. The Gulf Refining Company is pioneering another Mississippi frontier. (The second story of the series, dealing with conservation measures employed on the survey, will appear shortly).

Christmas Seal Search Begun

Today, that search for seals is under way. The search is being conducted by the Mississippi Tuberculosis Association, according to Dr. W. E. Pritchett, president. Every now and then, letters from citizens of Hancock County, however, come in from areas of mail or other sources. Christmas seals have been used for many years. These are hidden away in letters of which they are found and put forward.

"Many of the Christmas-Seals, which your tuberculosis association sent out on November 19 have been accounted for, and some very nice contributions have been made so that our work against the dread disease, Tuberculosis, can be continued. Nevertheless there are people who have not responded to the Christmas Seal letter they received. We urge every citizen make a contribution for their seals to the Mississippi Tuberculosis Association in order that we may intensify our efforts throughout the coming year, and increase our case-finding and educational programs so that Tuberculosis can be brought under control in Hancock County."

REMEMBER, look for your Christmas Seals and put them to work. Use them on your letters, Christmas cards

NOBODY'S PERFECT

The male half of a new dance team was pleading with a producer. "You have never seen anything so sensational," he raved. "To finish our act, I take my partner by the hair and whirl her around for exactly 20 spins. Then I wind up by heaving her through an open window."

The producer paled. "Heave her through an open window!" he exclaimed, incredulously. "Do you do that at every performance?" The young man shrugged. "Nobody's perfect," he admitted. "Sometimes I miss."

From Minnesota to the Gulf of Mexico, many streams flow one into another and finally, into the Mississippi... each helping to build the Majesty of the Father of Waters. In similar fashion, streams of natural gas flow from more than 200 fields in three states into the pipe lines of United Gas.

These natural gas "tributaries" are an important factor in assuring adequate, dependable supplies of fuel to all of the 400-odd communities and more than 2,000 industries served from our pipe lines. Still more fields are being tied in to the United Gas system to help provide the same assurance of dependable service to every city, town or industry which may be connected in the future.

"In an hour's time," he told his wife a moment later. "We'd better not get too optimistic though. Probably turn out to be worthless."

"Oh, Burt, you don't think it will?" "No—why I'd be satisfied if it turned out $50!"

"Ought to bring that," said Burt. "Ought to bring more! However, no one's getting optimistic."

Best Wishes

The world of Progress is a world of danger. We have to know if we're going to live or die. Christmas is over. No mother wants us to die. A brown came over the sky as he glanced around to see his son. Mike wasn't anywhere in sight.

He started to whistle, but his attention was caught by little Sammy Farr, big-eyed with excitement and frightened running toward him.

"Hey, Jimmy!" called Sammy.
They took Mike."

Jimmy's heart sank. He knew who they meant, but he had to make sure. "Who took him?"

The downcast Mike tried to answer, but they caught him before he could.

Little Sammy wiped his nose on his jacket. "I didn't have time to think. I just ran home and told my mom."

A boy of eleven couldn't cry
in front of a seven-year-old, so Jimmy blushed away the tears.

fore when that old dogcatcher came around."

"I shouldn't have left him down here by himself, but I didn't want to wake Mom up." Jimmy sat down on the step and buried his face in his hands. Sure, he thought, they'll keep Mike five days before they get rid of him, but a license will cost two dollars and a half.

Then he straightened up; he had three dollars in his pocket, three dollars all his own, that he had earned by running errands, selling junk, and saving the few pennies that his mother had given him for candy.

If he bought a license for Mike,
he wouldn't be able to buy the new purse for his mother, but he could buy a nice handkerchief or something with the fifty cents that he would have left.

A boy of eleven couldn't cry in front of a seven-year-old so Jimmy blushed away the tears that came when he thought of fuzzy, playful Mike being tossed into a pen full of big snarling dogs.

"I wonder if they'll feed him now."

A SENSE OF SHAME kept returning when Jimmy thought of his mother's shabby old purse.
She'd had it as long as he could remember, and he had seen her stop several times to admire the shiny black one with the gold-colored clasp that was in Hoff-berg's window. He had been looking forward to Christmas morning when she could carry the new one according to church instead of hiding the old one's disabilities. But that wasn't until the day after. It would have been easier to spend that money for Mike's license.

"Come on, Sammy, if you'll keep it a secret, I'll let you go with me to buy Mom's present." Maybe he could leave the purse with the landlady until after his mother had gone to work. Jimmy was glad that she wouldn't have to clean up those offices on Christmas Eve and Christmas night.

Jimmy's mother smiled at him
over the blouse she was sewing for their supper. " Didn't you come up the front way?"

"Yes," Jimmy closed the door and walked over to stand at the one window in their room.

"You didn't leave Mike out in the cold?"

"No." The tears that had been leaking from behind his eyes were falling now. "I'm not leaving him out in the cold."
Jimmy's mother stopped sewing and turned to him. "I know you aren't, Jimmy, but you're still a boy. You can't take care of him."

"I can. I can. I can. I can."
Jimmy's mother took him in her
arms and held him close.

"I know you can, Jimmy, but you're still a boy. You can't
take care of him."

"I can. I can. I can. I can."
Jimmy's mother took him in her
arms and held him close.

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS VISIT LOCAL AREA

Claude R. Wickard, Administrator of the FSA, and George C. Shultz, Secretary of Agriculture, came to the Bay Area recently. They were accompanied by W. E. Clegg, Director of the Farm Security Administration's Marketing Section, FSA, and several other FSA officials. Visiting St. Louis and Coast Electric here today, it was announced by George H. H. Shattuck, Manager of the St. Louis office.

The two government heads

had quite a time winning the top attention of the State and being

NURSING EDUCATION COURSE TO BE TRIED

New York—A new education may become a regular part of junior and community college life under a new national project designed to reduce the critical shortage of nurses.

The five-year plan will be launched by teachers' unions, educational and business organizations to supplement existing courses for practical, dental and vocational techniques.

The project is expected to an anonymous grant of $10,000. A number of institutions have agreed to participate.

It is expected to be completed in 1953.

Five kinds of instruction will be available in the program.

of the pews become outlined in the darkness. Just above the bishop's seat a lighted Nativity scene contributes to the atmosphere of the service.

Briefly the bishop explains the significance of the candles. Then the entire congregation stands, each member holding high his lighted taper. This act symbolizes the desire of the congregation to follow the "Light of the World" throughout the coming year.

A brief organ solo begins to conclude the service. Then lights still burning in the pews which still carry their small glowing form.

Other noticeable customs preserved by the Moravian descendants include displaying hundreds of 32-pointed stars; now, however, added beauty with electric light shining through them; and the playing of ancient horn music from the belly of the old church in the square.

The entire Christmas season in Old Salem perpetuates the deep religious fervor of a small group of European pioneers who settled, struggled and survived in the vast wilderness of America almost 200 years ago.

SEAMAN WONT SERVE IN U.S. FORCES IS SENTENCED TO PRISON

Mobile, Ala.—A 24-year-old seaman was sentenced to four and a half years in federal prison at Mobile because he said he didn't believe in supporting the United Nations police action in Korea.

Ralph Thomas Riley, a native of Omaha, Neb., 40, officer in "would not serve in the United States armed forces because he did not agree with the decision sending troops into Korea," Federal Judge Dennis H. Tamm told the defendant.

"I should give you the maximum five years, but will take into consideration the fact you voluntarily surrendered to the FBI. I'm shortening the term by six months."

Riley remained in Baltimore, Md., in 1948. The FBI located him in September, 1951, and turned him over to the draft board for induction.

Records showed he passed the physical examination and was told to report back in 30 days.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chapman and family had with them for the Christmas holidays Mrs. Chapman's mother, Mrs. F. J. Cole, her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Wadsworth, and little daughter, Glenn, of New Orleans; her brother and nephew-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Dubourg, of Baton Rouge.

One thing is certain. Mississippi is going to need more money to provide money to do all the things the people want and need done.

A legal industry would cost an estimated $14,000,000.

On Nov. 10, Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia introduced a bill on on a promise to make available

a revenue measure. Now, however,

Senate and House will be following that factor and enacting a revenue-enforcement bill to cover the same amount of money and reduce the amount that won't be dedicated until the new revenue comes in.
